ecutor was rejected. This greatly incensed Mrs. Rubey, who declared that an injustice was being done to her husband. One day last April Mrs. Rubey figured in another sensational and somewhat spectacular episode in St. Louis County. Her husband had been arrested at Ballwin on a minor charge and in default of bond was committed to jail at Clayton. When Constable Schumacher started with him to the county seat Mrs. Rubey clambered into the narrow rig beside the two men and declared that if her husband went to jail she would go with him. Contest Dismissed and Instrument Admitted to Probate.

New York, Nov. 12-In a decision handed New York, Nov. 12—In a decision handed firw to day Surregate Flitzgerald dismisses the contest to the probate of the will of Robert Bonner, the publisher, and admits the will to probate.

Mr. Honner died July 6, 1899. In a will dated June 26, 1899 after making several important bequests. Mr. Bonner divided the residue of his estate into four parts, leaving one portion each to his three children, Robert E. Bonner, Frederick Bonner and Mrs. Emma Forbes. The fourth share was left to the ninor children of the testator's dead son, Andrew Allen Bonner.

The contest was waged by Mrs. Andrew Allen Bonner, the widow of the testator's decased son, on behalf of her two children, Robert A. Bonner and Lawrence K. Bonner. The contestant alleged that the instrument propounded as the last will and testament of The contestant alleged that the instrument propounded as the last will and testament of Eobert Bonner, deceased, is not his last will and should not be admitted to probate, because he was not acting as a free agent in executing it, and that he was subject to undue influence.

Mexican Youth Killed Himself While Sweetheart Danced With Another Admirer.

El Pare, Tex., Nov. 12.—Jealousy prompt ed Igaccio Busililos, a Mexican youth, b take his own life last night. The traceds securred at a Mexican ball where the young man had gone to find his aweethcart waltz log with another man. The deed was committed in the presence of all of the assembled guests.

Igaccio was in love with the young Mex dean girl, and last night when he called at her home to see her he was informed that she had been invited to a ball at the home of Manuel Varela, and he went to the place himself.

When he got there at midnight the dance was at its height, and the senorita of whon he was enamored was dancing with another of her admirers. Bustillos paused in the doorway for an instant and surveyed the cene without a word. He then drew a pis tol from his pocket, and before any one could interfere put the muzzle of the weapon to his left breast and fired. He fell to the floor and expired almost instantly. For a time panic relgaed among the horror-stricken guests. When the woman in the case realized what her lover had done she was seized with hysterics and had to be attended by a physician.

"Mills at benison and Dallas," said he to-day, "have been unusually successful. Another mill is now being built at Fort Worth. There are of course, several good ones in Eastern Texas.

"One feature of the cotion situation in the State is that our mills pay more for cotten than the buyers for Northern mil's pay on the street. The margin of difference is slight, but it is enough to make a consideration for the growers of the staple. "The Texas people," added Judge Mosely, "are waking up to the chance of their rivers, and it is now the plan to extensively improve all the important waterways. In this fashion they can control the railroads of the State rather than by legislation and by commissions. Dallas has led off by securing an appropriation for the survey of the Trinity River. Wace, another of our cities, has secured a recommendation for an appropriation to survey the Brazos River.

"Both these rivers, by the way were named by the Mexicans to have a relicious significance—Trinity for the trinity of their church and Brazos de Dios, signifying the church and Brazos de Dies, signifying the arm of God.

"People of Denison are now trying to se-cure an appropriation for the improvement of the Red River, which in former days was navigated even beyond that city. We hope Congress will give us money to deepen the channel at an early day."

WOUNDS OF MODERN WARFARE.

Report of Surgeon General Sternberg Unusually Interesting.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL. Washington Nov 10-The forthcominunnual report of the Surgeon General of the army will contain an interesting chap-by rifles of reduced caliber.

In his review of the mass of statistical information presented on the subject Surgeon General Sternberg will show that the percentage of fatality was lower during the Spanish-American War, in which small-caliber projectles were used, than in the Civil War, when extremely large bullets were used.

This African ruler falled to make good, however, and at last the United States Consult made a summary demand upon him. This the Government of Morocco met with a tart declination to pay, asserting that under the terms of the convention between that country and Spain, it was free from liability.

Of a list of 1,400 wounded received by the Surgeon General no one died of external hemorrhage, and it was not necessary to ligate a vessel for alarming hemorrhage on the field. Clean-cut perforations without fracture were the rule in wounds of the principal joints. A majority of gunshot wounds in the head ended fatally.

General Sternberg cites a remarkable case in which a Mauser bullet entered above the left eye of a private of volunteers and remained lodged thirteen months after the injury, with no symptoms of paralysis. Penetrating wounds in the abdomen were fatal in most cases.

Owing to the smallness of the sectional area of the modern bullet, cloth and other infectious substances were not generally infectious substances were not generally carried into the wounds. The X-ray p oved of great assistance to surgeons in the field.

CUBAN CONSTITUTION MAKERS.

Havana, Nov. 12.—The Cuban Constitutional Convention met at 2 o'clock this afternoon, after adjourning from the second day's session, in the Marti Theater.

The Committee on Credentials reported as to all provinces except Havana. The report said that, although many mistakes had been made, there was no reason to throw out votes or unseat delegates, and that, where names had been written on a ballot, which was not marked with a cross, as in the case of the Province of Pinar del Hio, the votes should be counted. The committee, however, reported that no final decision could be reached as to Havana Province until Wednesday.

Havana is the only Province where a contest has been talked of, the opponents of Senor Zayas whiling to seat Senor Pierra in his place. The report was laid on the table and discussion followed as to whether the convention was illegally constituted. from holding the office to which he was elected.

This view of the case is not shared by either the Republican managers or the friends of Mr. Dickmann. It is conceded even by the most partisan admirers of Sheriff Pohlman that Mr. Dickmann was honestly and fairly elected, and the friends of the Sheriff are outspoken in declaring that Mr. Pohlman will not descend to take advantage of such a technicality to attempt to override the will of the people.

Aside from this, however, the opinion of nonpartisan attorneys is to the effect that Mr. Dickmann's failure to pay his back taxes does not disqualify him from holding the office to which he has been elected. Charles P. Johnson, viewing the matter from a purely legal standpoint, voiced the opinion of a number of other unprejudiced lawyers when he said:

"There is nothing in the Scheme and Charter, in my opinion, which can prevent the Election Commissioners issuing a certificate of election to Mr. Dickmann, My interpretation of the law on this point is that it requires a candidate to have paid his taxes before a certificate can be issued to him—the other words, a candidate is not included to office who has paid his taxes before the County Clerk has issued the certificate. As Mr. Dickmann has, as I understand, already paid his taxes up to date and the Election Commissioners have not completed the official count and decided which of the competitors is successful. I cannot see how he can be declared incligible on that score, I do not believe the question of his eligibility will be veriously considered."

There is no doubt that fully one-half of these cases will have no ground of merit to rest upon, but will be brought simply in the hope that the partisan majority in the House will be inclined to listen to them.

It was said by a Republican member that some persons are liable to find themselves mistaken in making these contests. The Republicans of the next House, he said can well afford not only to be just, but to be generous.

On the other hand, it is said that the Republicans will take advantage of their majority to eliminate as many of the Southern Democrats as possible.
